The last session, dear parent, has seen one of the most unprecedented crisis in the modern history of mankind. For the first time in our lives, we were forced to lead an isolated life. Again, this won't be an overstatement to state while the life had been brought to a halt every where in our country, our teachers were busy in delivering online classes and felicitating online learning to your lovely children. This has been possible with your co-operation and praiseworthy attitude only.

In the end, we take this opportunity to wish you and your family well. The school leadership and team will always be there to support you.
